

Famous Kentucky Christians Club E-newsletter

Fall 2022

Match the Famous Person to an Activity

- |                      |                                     |
|----------------------|-------------------------------------|
| • Harland Sanders    | • Write a limerick                  |
| • Dottie Rambo       | • Weave a chair seat of rushes      |
| • Tony Snow          | • Kick a football                   |
| • Elisha Green       | • Take someone's pulse              |
| • Bill Arnsparger    | • Find a path in a wilderness       |
| • Mary Britton       | • Measure the air in a tire         |
| • Peter Durrett      | • Send a get well card to a soldier |
| • Effie Waller Smith | • Tie a necktie                     |

Read about the people and find the answers on the back.

A New Arboretum

We have a new arboretum on the Walking Trail. An arboretum is a collection of trees. There are several hundred trees. Some of them are native trees which means they come from Kentucky. Some of the trees are rare trees like the ginko trees. When you visit the Walking Trail now you can see all kinds of beautiful trees. Soon we will have them all labeled so you can identify them. It is the Greg & Toni Spivey and Family Arboretum.

Loretta Lynn, a famous Kentucky Christian

Loretta Lynn was a famous Kentucky Christian and country music singer and songwriter. She was born in Butcher Hollow, Kentucky in 1932 and she died on October 4, 2022. In an Instagram video, Loretta Lynn spoke about her faith in Jesus Christ this way. "Jesus is my friend. I keep hold of his hand and I don't let loose." She also said, "There's no way you can repay Jesus for what he done. There's just no way. You just have to show him how much you love him, and I think that's the way we all have to repay him. It's in your actions." You can find Loretta Lynn's song, "Who Says God is Dead" online. She wrote it in 1968.

Visit the Kentucky Faith &
Public History
Education Project
Walking Trail—
Open and free
during daylight
hours at 616
Clintonville Rd,
Paris, Kentucky

Did You Know That...

You do not have to tell us you are coming unless you want to have us guide you on the Trail. Then you should call us and get on the calendar. If we plan ahead, you will get to do five fun activities that are inspired by our famous Kentuckians and their times. It's free, fun, and educational.

Did you match the people to the right activity?

Harland Sanders owned a gas station before he made his famous fried chicken so he matches measuring a tire. Dottie Rambo visited wounded soldiers in Vietnam so she matches making a get well card for a soldier. Tony Snow was a tv journalist so he always wore a necktie. Elisha Green and his family wove chair seats to earn money. Bill Arnsparger was an NFL football coach so he matches kicking a football. Mary Britton was the first woman doctor licensed in Lexington, Kentucky, so she matches taking someone's pulse. Peter Durrett was an enslaved African American frontiersman who led a lot of families through the mountains from Virginia to Kentucky. Effie Waller Smith was a poet so she matches writing a limerick which is a short funny poem.